Emergency Phone Numbers
Keep this list of emergency numbers in your home, office, or on your phone so you know who to call for any situation.

Write Your Next 911 Emergency Number Here
936.760.5800

Your local jurisdiction may have a non-emergency line for police, fire, or public works. This is the best way to get help when there is no immediate threat to life or safety.

Emergency Police - Fire - Ambulance
9-1-1

Call 9-1-1 only for emergencies that threaten life or property. This is not a non-emergency number. Do not dial 9-1-1 from any phone, including cell phones.

Report Suspicious Activity
855-492-8244

We all play a role in helping secure our public spaces. If you see someone acting suspiciously, call 855-492-8244. For more information, visit www.montgomerycountyprecinct3.org.

211 Texas / United Way Helpline
2-1-1

2-1-1 helps connect you with resources in your area. You can also call 2-1-1 to report a problem that requires government department assistance through STEAR.

Houston Rad Cross
866-526-8300

Look for Red Cross disaster relief emergency response services after disasters. They also offer first aid and CPR training and disaster preparedness classes.

Disaster Distress Helpline
800-985-5990

The national disaster helpline is available to people experiencing distress from a natural or man-made disaster. You can also text Talk 800 to 867-8272.

Poison Control Center
800-222-1222

Seek help for poisoning emergencies. If you think someone has breathed, eaten, or touched something, check the person's condition. You can also call 811.
